CITY NOTES

Greenbelt CARES

Week Ending June 10

My name is Jasmine Stokes and I am a rising junior at Mount St. Mary's University in Emmitsburg, MD. As a psychology major with a minor in gender studies, I plan to pursue a Master's degree in social work. I hope to pursue a career in clinical counseling that focuses on older and disabled adults, as well as helping with those struggling to cope with changes in their health, financial situation, and any social issues that may impact their families and/or community. Due to my interest in counseling, I have chosen to seek volunteer opportunities at my university that offer mentoring and leadership options. Over the course of the past four semesters of college, I have become a member of Psi Chi, which is the National Psychology Honor Society, a peer mentor for incoming freshmen, a mentor for local middle school girls and this fall my goal is to volunteer at a local nursing home in Emmitsburg. During the month of June, I will be completing an intensive internship with the Greenbelt Assistance in Living (GAIL) Program. I am very excited to have this opportunity to work with the residents of Greenbelt and look forward to a rigorous internship.

During the month of May, 13 families on average were seen for counseling at CARES. Sixty individuals on average came on a weekly basis among whom eighteen were 18 years of age and younger. The CICs (Crisis Intervention Counselors) saw fourteen clients.
