Business Spotlight: Choice Clinical Services

Since their inception in 2016, Choice Clinical Services (CCS) have been a part of the Greenbelt community. CCS is a mental health agency that proudly boasts a woman-led practice with a diverse group of predominantly women staff and clinicians.

CCS believes in Choice Theory, this is where healing begins with the client's power to choose, allowing positive change to promote empowerment and healing. Community to CCS means being able to provide support, resources, encouragement and connection to others. Being an active and supportive figure in the Greenbelt community has allowed them to partner with multiple organizations including but not limited to, the Greenbelt Alliance for Reproductive Freedom, Greenbelt Recreation, and Michael D. Maxwell Jr. Foundation for Mental Awareness, to give back to a community that supports CCS so much. CCS loves being a part of this amazing community because it allows them to be a resource to those who need it most!

Anyone looking to start their mental health journey or have any questions about where to begin, can reach out to us at:

Building Capability: Targeted Support for Businesses at Every Stage

Wednesday, April 19 from 3:00pm - 4:00pm

Businesses across the spectrum, from seed to startup to second stage, face distinct challenges and offer diverse contributions depending on their place in the entrepreneurship lifecycle. Additionally, entrepreneurs from historically underestimated communities require unique support to navigate intentional and unintentional barriers.

Join the City Inclusive Entrepreneurship (CIE) program at the National League of Cities to discuss the various stages of entrepreneurship so city leaders can better understand entrepreneur's needs and provide targeted assistance to help them succeed.
