CITY NOTES

Greenbelt CARES

Week Ending May 19

Liz Park spoke to graduate students in the University of Maryland's Couple and Family Therapy program about internships and employment opportunities at Greenbelt CARES.

Green Ridge House hosted a "Snack and Chat with the State's Attorney" event on May 9. State's Attorney Aisha Braveboy spoke about preventing financial fraud for seniors. Twenty residents, as well as district delegates and members of the Greenbelt police, were in attendance. Lunch was served.

The GAIL program kicked off a summer rotation of the Community Nursing program by way of a new partnership with Chamberlain University School of Nursing. The student nurses will provide services to residents of Green Ridge House during this first summer session and run through June 27, 2023.

CARES hosted a Job Fair on Saturday, May 6, at Beltway Plaza Mall. Thirteen businesses attended and spoke to and over 100 potential employees. Participants ranged in age from 16 to 62 and came from many communities such as Greenbelt, Hyattsville, College Park, Lanham and Upper Marlboro.

Teresa Smithson attended the UMD and UMBC Schools of Social Work Field Instructors Appreciation Webinar: A SHARP Approach to Building the Therapeutic Alliance, on Tuesday. The webinar covered the five components in the SHARP framework which are: 1) Structural oppression; 2) Historical context; 3) Analysis of role; 4) Reciprocity and mutuality; and 5) Power. It discussed how to apply this via Narrative Therapy, with clients and in supervising graduate interns.

The GAIL Program has begun to offer Aging Solo - a 6-week virtual class. Aging Solo is a national award-winning online learning opportunity designed to help participants take charge of their aging. Topics addressed include: Your social network and support network, healthcare decisions-making end of life choices, aging in place, making a move and your next steps. Due to popular demand, a second class has been booked for September 2023. By word of mouth this class is half full already.

Museum Weekly Report For Week Ending May 19, 2023

Museum Activities

- Programs:
  - Ongoing promotion for next Museum lecture about a Japanese Incarceration Camp during WWII via Eventbrite, social media, museum newsletter, website, News Review. 30 people have signed up as of 5/19. The virtual talk will take place Tuesday, May 23, 7pm.
  - Promoting June 4, Greenbelt Day Weekend open house. There will be short tours and activities for kids in 10A including making small Greenbelt flags.
  - Ongoing promotion for Juneteenth event, The Real Juneteenth. Co-sponsoring with Black History and Culture Committee. Event will take place in the Community Center on June 13.
- Reparations Commission: May meeting took place on the 16th in the council room. The group is discussing the formation of committees and the possibility of working with consultant(s). Ongoing monitoring of emails and answering questions.
- Outreach: Education and Volunteer Coordinator's talk at Greenbelt National Park's campfire circle was postponed due to rain and will possibly be rescheduled for June.
  - Director participated in Spring Hill Lake Elementary's Career Day. Spoke with students about the Museum, being a curator. Had them guess what several vintage household items were.
- Education/Volunteer Coordinator working with a boy scout on a project.
- 10A Project: Following up with Public Works on the possibility of adding a second portable AC unit to be installed downstairs as the single unit upstairs has never cooled both floors adequately.
- Grounds at 10A and 10B: Requested Public Works mow grass and work on landscaping. Also requesting the Museum house be cleaned prior to June open house.
- Tours: Local Red Hat Ladies group toured the Museum house. More inquiries are coming in. Marketing effort may be required to get tours back to pre-pandemic volume.
- Cemeteries: Responded to inquiry from City Treasurer regarding possible budget for adding interpretive signage at city's three historic cemeteries.
